At Courage Reins Farm, horses help children experiencing cancer find hope and courage amidst life's hardships.

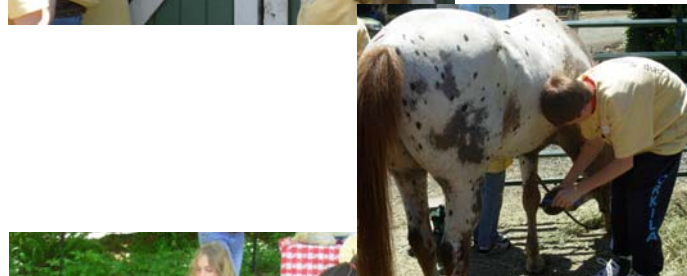

Autumn 2008

Picture Gallery— Summertime Fun!

Welcome Fall! Thank you to everyone who came to visit Courage Reins Farm this year. The horses miss your treats and hugs! Summer was busy with visits from lots of families, as well as Camp Sparkle and the Hutch School kids. Thank you to Camp Sparkle for planting our pumpkin patch again this year. We have HUGE plants growing in the patch with hopefully a few pumpkins! On Saturday October 25th we would like to invite you to The Pumpkin Harvest Festival. You can come with your friends and family between 2:00 and 4:00 pm to pick a pumpkin, make s'mores, sing around the camp fire, get your face painted and participate in the "candy in the haystack" hunt! The horses are going to show off their apple bobbing skills (Woody is the farm champion). We are planning on having lots of fun and laughing very hard so come join us!

Project Linus has donated many cowboy quilts to the farm for each of you to have. We would like to thank them for all their hard work and generosity with the beautiful quilts they create. It feels so good to wrap up in a cozy quilt when you are having a not- so- good day.

The animals here at the farm are doing great, Nugget the goat is full grown standing 2 feet tall. He currently is enjoying the blackberries, leaves and all. Violet's feet continue to get a little better each day, Our hope is she will be ready for you to ride in Spring. Northern and Woody love the apples from our trees—they will have to show you how much apple slime they make when they eat them! Brushing them takes a little longer these days, their coats are getting thicker every day. Snow must be coming!

Quackers the duck is still following Candy around and acting like a dog. Max, Jazzmine and Candy the dogs are fine as well. Hope to see you for the Pumpkin Harvest on the 25th, and in the meantime, be sure to check out our updated web site. We have lots of new pictures for you to look at!

Farm Spotlight—Nugget

Nugget is the newest member of the family at Courage Reins Farm. He is a pygmy goat who is not even a year old yet. He loves all of the attention that he receives from the children who come and visit the farm, and he is very friendly. Nugget enjoys going for walks, being petted and loved on, and head-butting the dogs if they get too close! He has also been very efficient at keeping the vegetation along Courage Trail under control!

Please join us at Courage Reins Farm for the

Pumpkin Harvest Festival

Saturday, October 25th from 2:00—4:00 PM.

Activities will include:

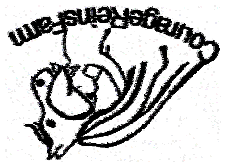

- Pumpkin picking
- S'more roasting
- Face painting
- "Candy in the Haystack" hunt
- Bobbing for apples contest featuring the Courage Reins Farm horses!

It will be a fun afternoon, and we hope to see you there!
